OFFICE OF EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

FOREWORD

This is the thirty-seventh year for publication of the North Carolina Dial Codes. A printed version has not been available since the year 2000. The booklet is available only in electronic PDF format. Dial Codes is provided by the North Carolina Office of Emergency Medical Services to share information about EMS and hospital emergency communications within North Carolina. Information about the Voice Interoperability Plan for Emergency Responders (VIPER) and the VIPER Medical Communications Network (VMN) is available in the companion document DTMF Codes and Reference Information (<http://www.ncdhhs.gov/dhsr/EMS/pdf/dtmfref.pdf>).

Radio Information Summary

- The OEMS operates radios in several different radio bands and channels including VHF, UHF and 800 MHz spectrums.
- The primary radio channel for the OEMS is the VIPER 800 MHz channel VMJ59101.
- VMJ59101 may be used by any OEMS staff member to contact the ERO, CRO or WRO and to communicate between other staff for business purposes. During disaster operation these channels will work if the cell phone doesn't.
- Each OEMS location has installed a radio at the office administrative desk. This radio should be answered promptly when a call is received and may be used to call between offices. Periodic operational checks are encouraged.
- The channel VMJ59101 is a public contact channel and is programmed into all ambulances with VIPER as part of the VIPER Medical Network (VMN). Outside agencies can call the OEMS on this channel.
- All radio communication on any OEMS radio is subject to interception and monitoring by others, including the general public. Communicate professionally, use plain language. As a courtesy, say "clear" when you are done using a channel.

<http://www.ncpoisoncenter.org>

The Carolinas Poison Center is designated as the Statewide Poison Center for North Carolina and is certified by the American Association of Poison Control Centers (AAPCC) as a Regional Poison Control Center. The Center provides emergency information regarding poisoning, to citizens and healthcare professionals throughout North Carolina. Toll free emergency phone lines are staffed by specially trained registered nurses and pharmacists who are knowledgeable about toxic substances and can advise treatment for victims exposed to potential poisons including drugs, plants, mushrooms, pesticides, snake and spider bites, stings from sea creatures and a wide variety of household cleaners and chemicals.

Board-certified medical toxicologists are available for immediate consultation 24 hours a day. These physicians provide the highest level of care in the diagnosis and treatment of acute and chronic poisonings. The toxicologists are certified by the American Board of Emergency Medicine and by the Medical Toxicology Sub-board of the American Board of Emergency Medicine and actively practice Emergency Medicine and Medical Toxicology. Education materials and safety brochures may be obtained by e-mailing Carolinas Poison Center at <http://www.ncpoisoncenter.org>.

NC HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

Regional Response Team (RRT) Program

The NC Hazardous Materials Regional Response Teams (RRT) have been operational since 1996. The seven (7) teams are located in Williamston, Wilmington, Fayetteville, Raleigh (RTP), Greensboro, Asheville and Charlotte. The Hazardous Materials Regional Response Team program offers two types of assistance. The FIRST is response to a spill or release of hazardous materials. A twelve (12) person response team is available 24 hours per day. They can be accessed through the local county Emergency Management Coordinator, through the 15 NC Divisions of Emergency Management Area Coordinators or their Eastern, Central, or Western Branch Offices. The SECOND is technical information. They can inform you of the hazards of specific chemicals. When calling for technical information be sure you are calling the specific Regional Response Team assigned to the "affected territory."

USING *DIAL CODES

North Carolina "agency information" within this publication is listed alphabetically by county name. To locate a particular agency when the county is known, consult the Counties Listed Alphabetically section. If the county is unknown, refer to the "North Carolina Hospital Index," then refer to the county section.

STANDARIZATION OF IDENTIFIERS

FREQUENCY IDENTIFIERS

The frequencies 155.340 MHz and 155.280 MHz are used throughout the state. Additionally note that many hospitals monitor both of these frequencies simultaneously, but do not have a means of determining which frequency they are receiving at any given time. It is therefore necessary for the calling station to make an announcement of what frequency is being used. The terms "frequency one," "F1," "channel one or two," "regional frequency," "local frequency," "area channel," etc., are not descriptive or standardized widely enough to be effective as identification of what frequency is being used. Likewise, these markings (REGIONAL, LOCAL, etc.) are not standardized and vary from radio to radio.

Since many times EMS units transfer patients to other counties, what is "F1" on your radio may not be "F1" in the other county or area. To standardize the identification of frequencies and totally identify the frequency being used, it is necessary to state the frequency in its entirety. This, however, is inconvenient. To help establish a universal statewide North Carolina standard, the following abbreviations should be used:

Frequency 155.280 MHz, say "280"
Frequency 155.340 MHz, say "340"

Every radio user in North Carolina using the above frequencies should know which of their frequencies is 155.340 MHz ("340") or 155.280 MHz ("280"). If you do not presently know which of your frequencies is 280 or 340, call your OEMS Regional Specialist listed in this booklet. They have special radio equipment to identify your frequencies and will be happy to help you.

RADIO IDENTIFICATION

To avoid confusion when communicating over the radio, especially when communicating to someone out of your normal operating area, always use your complete identification. It is not sufficient to simply state "This is Unit 12" or "Rescue One." Many counties have the same identifiers, and most hospitals communicate to more than one provider. It is very confusing to try to talk to two "Rescue One" units at the same time.

To help alleviate some confusion you should give your city or county name before your unit identifier. For example, say, "This is Guilford County Rescue One," not simply "This is Rescue One."

TONE CODED SQUELCH SYSTEMS

TONE CODE FREQUENCY CROSS-REFERENCE

Radio equipment manufacturers use different names or code identifiers to describe the continuous tone coded squelch systems (CTCSS) used in radio communications equipment. The various names and code plans sometimes make it difficult for a user to identify his own tone frequency. For example, Motorola Communications has trademarked the name "Private Line" or "PL" to describe their tone squelch system and General Electric used the name "Channel Guard" or "CG." The tone systems are compatible if the tone frequency is the same.

The tone frequencies listed within the Dial Codes booklet are in Hertz (Hz). Use this table to cross-reference and convert a CTCSS tone to hertz to determine if your radio is compatible with that of a different system.

For example, if you operate a Motorola radio and know your Private Line (PL) is "2A" the actual tone frequency is 114.8 Hertz. The radio can therefore communicate with any radio system with the same 114.8 Hz CTCSS tone, regardless of manufacturer.

PL Code	Tone	PL Code	Tone

SENIOR MEDICAL TECHNICIAN: Hospital Corpsman 1st Class George Marinez, U.S. Navy
MEDICAL DIRECTOR: Lieutenant Commander Paul Scanlin (Medical Corps, U.S. Navy)
LEAD PILOT: Major Jason Vrable, Search and Rescue Branch Head

NOTE: PEDRO is an all-weather, IFR capable platform with a primary mission of search and rescue support for tactical aircraft operating from MCAS Cherry Point and MCAS New River. However, PEDRO can respond to civilian requests on a not to interfere basis. During regular working hours and most evenings PEDRO is on a five minute alert status from 06:30 am until all Marine Corps aircraft have secured flight operations. After normal hours, a one hour alert is maintained from recall to launch, including weekends and holidays. PEDRO aircraft have significant medical capabilities (oxygen, ventilator, EKG, portable defibrillator kit, trauma bags, etc.) and at a minimum are manned with state certified EMT-B personnel (EMT-I or EMT-P may be available dependent upon scheduled personnel). PEDRO can also transport civilian EMT-P personnel and/or flight nurses for patient care as required.

REQUESTING A HELICOPTER TRANSPORT

After determining that a helicopter mission is necessary, call the selected service at the telephone number listed on the following pages. Be prepared to:

1. Give your name, title, agency requesting service, and a call back telephone number.
2. Give the patient's name and approximate age if known.
3. Provide information on the type of response. E.g.: roadside pickup or hospital transfer.
4. Identify the pickup site; name the city and county; give the direction and distance from prominent visual landmarks in the area. Provide the geographic longitude and latitude if they are known.
5. Give the destination of the patient. For transfers between hospitals give the patient's name, the receiving hospital and physician's name.
6. Give the nature and extent of injury or illnesses.
7. Specify any special equipment or medical care needed en route; give a brief medical history.
8. Identify the radio frequency and call identification to be used for air-to-ground communications at the pickup site.
9. Give the weather conditions at the pickup site.

LANDING SITE

Landing requires an area 60x60 feet (100x100 feet at night or in high winds). The area must be flat and clear of wires, trees, signs or loose objects such as trashcans, twigs, or ambulance sheets. If at night mark the landing area with crossed LOW BEAM headlights or emergency beacons. If road flares are used, be sure they are firmly secured to the ground.

HELISTOP/HELIPAD

Within the hospital agency listings, the symbol indicates there is a helipad or helistop reported to be located at the hospital.

MOBILE RADIO VHF & UHF INTERIM FREQUENCY LIST 12/9/11

The "power on" code of the radio programmed from this list is IN121311

This is an INTERIM frequency program list pending final channel determinations after narrowbanding.
 In the Channel Name, F=Fire; E=EMS; C=Communications Center; A=All of the above. V=VHF; U=UHF.
 A "D" in a channel name indicates a DIRECT, or "talk-around" non-repeated channel.
